The New Student Conference (NSC) is a two-day orientation program required of all new undergraduate students. In order to accept your offer of admission from Texas A&M, you must register for an NSC.

You will be required to complete many tasks prior to your NSC. Use the checklist below to understand what you need to do before coming to your NSC.

- Verify your conference date and print out your online NSC Confirmation letter on the Applicant Information System.
- Provide evidence of vaccination against bacterial meningitis or meet certain criteria for declining the vaccination.
- Register family members or guests to attend the NSC with you.
- Make plans for parking on campus. Summer Weekly permits are available for purchase online beginning May 1st.
- Arrange for overnight accommodations during the conference.
- Check to see if you need to take the Math Placement Exam (Freshmen only).
- Verify that you meet the Texas Success Initiative (TSI) requirement or make plans to complete the pre-assessment and test.
- Complete the Lab Safety Acknowledgment (LSA) via the Howdy Portal.
- Claim your TAMU email account and begin checking it often.
- Know what to expect by checking out the sample NSC Schedules.
- Print off a campus map.
- Print off a packing list of what to bring.
- Follow us on Twitter @NSFptamu for updates and reminders.
- Download the TAMU Mobile App on your smart phone to have access to maps, bus routes, and much more at your fingertips.
- If you are an international student, complete the Online Orientation and schedule your New International Student Check-In appointment as required by International Student Services (ISS).
