Dear New Student:

Howdy! Welcome to Aggieland and to what is going to be a most exciting and important time in your life. During your college career, you will encounter a world of new ideas, new discoveries, and new friends. More than 60,000 students will be enrolled this fall, and you will have the opportunity to interact with students of various backgrounds from every county in Texas, most every state in the nation, and from over 125 countries.

One of the major advantages of Texas A&M University is having the opportunity to participate in an exceptional variety of out-of-classroom activities, the breadth of which few, if any, other universities in the nation can match. Starting with New Student Conferences, students are encouraged to get involved in one or more of our 1,200+ student organizations. Through these organizations you will complement and apply what you’ve learned in the classroom by blending it with invaluable organizational, teamwork, and leadership skills you can gain from your out-of-class activities.

The Division of Student Affairs is committed to providing you exceptional programs, services, and engagement opportunities that will assist in your success. The purpose of this handbook is to assist you in identifying some of those opportunities—to offer some of the avenues to and the facets of our campus, student services, Aggie traditions, and more.

Daniel J. Pugh, Sr., Ph.D.
Vice President for Student Affairs

Howdy,

Congratulations and welcome to the Aggie Family! It is with great honor that I write these words, knowing that a new class of Aggies are joining us in their new home: Aggieland. We have many valued and venerated traditions on this campus; each one pulls us in closer to the heart of Texas A&M and offers you the opportunity to be a part of something big. From Muster to Maroon Out, you may find that you impact these traditions just as much as they will surely impact you!

Beginning your college experience is really cool and comes with both adventures and challenges. This university has a lot of students, and I want to encourage you to take every opportunity you can to grow and be a part of our family. As Aggies, we have values that we live by: Excellence, Integrity, Leadership, Loyalty, Respect, and Selfless Service. I challenge you to embrace these values in all that you do and to call those around you to do the same. After all, choosing to live by these values is precisely what has enabled many Aggies before you to change the world.

Texas A&M University is the state’s first public institution of higher education. Established in 1876, a century after the Declaration of Independence, A&M is now the second-largest university in the nation. We are a Tier 1 University, holding triple distinctions as a Land, Sea, and Space Grant institution. A&M’s academics and research are world renowned, and I invite you to take pride in this. Additionally, in conjunction with your academic experience, A&M will empower you to lead outside of the classroom in ways you never have before. I cannot wait to see what you will accomplish.

Through my involvement at A&M, I’ve had the opportunity to interact with students from many other universities. As a result of these experiences, I can confidently tell you that there is no other school, no other student body, and no other culture like ours. You are gifted with a very special opportunity to be a member of this family, and I look forward to seeing how you make the Aggie experience your own! Know that I am rooting for you and will be here for you if ever you choose to reach out and share your Aggie story.

In support of Texas A&M University’s mission, the goal of New Student & Family Programs is to facilitate the success of new students through their first year at A&M, thereby retaining them for their second year and through graduation. Recognizing the important role that family members play in a student’s college success, we strive to equip families with the resources to aid their student throughout their student’s college career.

New Student Conferences are an integrated effort among all colleges, divisions, and departments of the University community to assist entering students with the transition from their previous environment to the Texas A&M University environment and to enhance their success in college.

Howdy Week is Aggieland's Week of Welcome held the week before fall classes begin. Howdy Week provides new and returning students an opportunity to learn more about the campus, each other, and college life in general through a series of educational and social events sponsored by university departments, colleges, student organizations, residence halls, and community groups.

The Aggie Orientation Leader Program is a student organization that strives to continually connect new students to Texas A&M by personally supporting, serving, and using all available resources to help ease the transition for them and their families. These students play a significant role supporting the New Student Conference experience.
Aggie Families can find a variety of support resources and information through Aggie Family Programs. Family members can sign up for the Family Member Listserv and receive monthly email updates about campus events and services. Additionally, families can connect with New Student & Family Programs and each other on Facebook at /AggieParentsandFamily.

Family Weekend is a tradition that has existed at Texas A&M University since 1919. This weekend is dedicated to all Aggie parents and family members and provides students a chance to express their gratitude to those who have impacted their lives. Family Weekend has become the official “HOWDY!” to Aggie Family members.

There are several publications for all populations served by NSFP. For newly admitted students, there is the New Student Conference Handbook and the New Student Handbook. Family members can receive a monthly email newsletter and a semi-annual publication, the Aggie Connection.
By resolution of the Legislature of the State of Texas in November 1866, Texas agreed to provide land for a college under the terms of the Morrill Act, but no such institution was organized until the establishment of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas by the Texas state legislature on April 17, 1871. A commission created to locate the institution accepted the offer of 2,416 acres of land from the citizens of Brazos County in 1871, and instruction began in 1876.

Texas A&M was established as a military institution, and the Corps of Cadets has played an important part in its history and development. Although membership in the Corps of Cadets became voluntary in 1965, Texas A&M historically has produced more military officers than any other institution in the nation except for the service academies. Texas A&M remains one of only six senior military colleges today, and the Corps is the largest uniformed body outside the national service academies.

In keeping with the diversified and expanded character of the institution, in 1963, the name of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas changed to Texas A&M University. In September 1971, the designation Sea Grant College was assigned to Texas A&M University in recognition of its achievements in oceanographic and marine resources development. Texas A&M was one of the first institutions nationwide to achieve this distinction. Texas A&M added a third special designation to its credentials in August 1989, when it was named a Space Grant College based on its continuing commitment to space research. Texas A&M is one of a select few institutions nationwide to hold the triple Land-Grant, Sea-Grant, and Space-Grant designations. Texas A&M has two branch campuses: Texas A&M University at Galveston, the university's marine-oriented branch, opened in 1962; and Texas A&M University at Qatar, an engineering branch established in the Middle Eastern country of Qatar in 2003, with full funding by Qatar Foundation.

Texas A&M University offers a variety of programs in both undergraduate and graduate studies through its academic colleges and programs: Agriculture & Life Sciences, Architecture, Bush School of Government & Public Service, Mays Business School, Dentistry, Education & Human Development, Engineering, Geosciences, Health Science Center, School of Law, Liberal Arts, Nursing, Public Health, Science, and Veterinary Medicine & Biomedical Sciences. In addition, its extensive research efforts in all fields total nearly $900 million.

From humble beginnings in 1876 as Texas' first public institution of higher learning, Texas A&M is now a bustling 5,200-acre campus (one of the nation's largest) with more than 60,000 students and a nationally recognized faculty. With a fall 2017 new student enrollment at 13,764, more than 26 percent are the first in their family to attend college. Average SAT scores are well above the national average, and the university consistently ranks in the top 10 nationally in the number of National Merit Scholars.

In addition to the exemplary education students receive inside the classroom, Aggies also have the opportunity to experience “education in action” through participation in one or more of the University’s 1,200 clubs and organizations. In fact, more than 75 percent of students belong to at least one student organization. See the involvement section of this handbook to learn more about opportunities on campus.
Aggie Ring

The Aggie Ring is rich in symbolism and tradition and is perhaps the most recognizable and enduring symbol of the Aggie Network. The Association of Former Students has the distinct privilege of protecting the spirit and integrity of the Aggie Ring.

The highly cherished Aggie Ring can only be obtained through The Association of Former Students. Students must meet eligibility requirements before they can order their Aggie Ring. Please visit AggieNetwork.com/Ring to learn more about the Aggie Ring requirements.

Aggie Bonfire

Aggie Bonfire began in 1907 when cadets lit a pile of wood and trash on fire at the train station to welcome the football team home from a victory on the road. Bonfire grew immensely throughout the years and it came to symbolize the undying love all Aggies hold in their hearts for Texas A&M and eventually evolved into an exciting and eagerly anticipated tradition at Texas A&M.

For nearly a century, Bonfire was lit just prior to the annual football game with the University of Texas (referred to as “t.u.” by Aggies), representing the burning desire Aggies have to “beat the hell out of t.u.!” Aggie Bonfire has been a testament to Aggie spirit and what Aggie leadership, teamwork, and motivation can accomplish. Since the tragic fall of the stack on November 18, 1999, Aggie Bonfire is now remembered in a memorial on campus dedicated to those who were lost and injured that day and throughout Bonfire’s history.

Gig ‘Em

Pinky Downs, class of 1906, is credited with the “Gig ‘Em” hand sign. At the 1930 Yell Practice before the TCU football game, Downs shouted out, “What are we going to do to those Horned Frogs?” Answering his own question, he replied, “Gig ‘Em, Aggies!” while making a fist with his thumb extended. A “gig” is a spear-like tool used for hunting frogs. The gesture became known as the first hand sign of the Southwest Conference. Now Aggies use this sign to encourage and motivate each other.
The first Silver Taps is held to honor Lawrence Sullivan Ross, the former governor of Texas and president of A&M College. Silver Taps, one of Texas A&M’s most honored traditions, is held for any student who passes away while enrolled at A&M. This final tribute is held the first Tuesday of the month following the student’s passing.

The first Bonfire is held in the early morning hours of November 18, 1907. However, the first on-campus Aggie Bonfire will not be held until 1909.

“Pinky” Wilson writes The Aggie War Hymn while standing guard on the Rhine River during World War I.

By far, one of Texas A&M’s most honored traditions is Silver Taps. Silver Taps is held for any graduate or undergraduate student who passes away while enrolled at A&M. This final tribute is held in Academic Plaza the first Tuesday of the month following the student’s passing. The first Silver Taps was held in 1898 and honored Lawrence Sullivan Ross, the former governor of Texas and president of A&M College.

On the day of Silver Taps, a small card with the deceased student’s name, classification, major, and date of birth is placed at the base of the flagpole in Academic Plaza. Around 10:15 that night, lights are extinguished around Academic Plaza, and hymns chime from Albritton Bell Tower. Students silently gather at the statue of Lawrence Sullivan Ross. At 10:30 p.m., the Ross Volunteer Firing Squad marches into the plaza and fires a 21-gun salute. Buglers then play a special rendition of Taps, called Silver Taps, three times from the dome of the Academic Building: once to the north, south, and west. It is not played to the east because it is said that the sun will never rise on that Aggie’s life again. After the buglers play, those in attendance leave from Academic Plaza in complete silence.

Reveille, the first lady of Aggieland, is the official mascot of Texas A&M University. As an honorary Cadet General, she wears five diamonds, making her the highest-ranking member of the Corps of Cadets.

Reveille I came to Texas A&M in January 1931. A group of cadets hit a small black-and-white dog on the side of the road on their way back from Navasota. They picked up the dog and brought her back to school so they could care for her. The next morning, when “Reveille” was blown by a bugler, the dog started barking and was later named after this morning wake-up call. The following football season, she was named the official mascot when she led the band onto the field during their halftime performance.
Muster

Muster began in June of 1883 as members of the Ex-Cadets Association came together to “live over again our college days, the victories and defeats won and lost upon drill ground and classroom” and to “let every alumni answer a roll call.” In 1922, April 21st became a formalized day of events for all A&M clubs to celebrate San Jacinto Day in the same fashion. Since then, events that occurred on April 21st have grown in size and number.

Muster gained national recognition in 1942 when newspapers reported that a Muster ceremony was held by 24 Aggies on the island of Corregidor in the Philippines, just days before the land fell to the Japanese.

Today, Aggie Muster is celebrated in more than 300 locations worldwide. Students coordinate the Campus Muster that is held for students and faculty. Each year, Muster is dedicated to the 50-year reunion class. The Campus Muster involves a day of activities for all Aggies to come together on campus to enjoy a barbecue, friendship, and entertainment.

The day closes with the roll call for the absent ceremony, when over 13,000 people come together to honor and remember those who are no longer with us. Following the Singing Cadets, Aggie Band, and Muster speaker, lights are dimmed, and the roll call begins. As each name is called, a candle is lit, and a friend or family member answers “here” to remind us all that each Aggie, though no longer present in body, will always remain with us in spirit.

Muster is a time to look to the past, present, and future, not only to grieve but to reflect and to celebrate the lives that connect us to one another. A gesture so simple in nature yet so lasting in spirit, Muster is the lasting impression every Aggie leaves with us; it reminds us of the greatness that lies within these walls, of the loyalty we possess, of the connection that binds us, and of the idea that every Aggie has a place of importance—whether they are present in flesh or spirit. Muster will continue to serve as the foundation of Aggie Spirit, upholding those ideals and principles common to all students of Texas A&M, common to all Aggies, forever.

Student E. King Gill comes down out of the stands and dons the uniform of an injured player during the Aggie football game against Centre College. He is the last man standing on the sideline at the end of the game, and though he never plays, he stands by in case his team needs him, beginning the tradition of the 12th Man.

1930

Pinky Downs shouts out at the Yell Practice before the TCU football game, “What are we going to do to those Horned Frogs?” Answering his own question, he replies, “Gig ‘Em, Aggies!” while making a fist with his thumb extended.

1931

A group of cadets hits a small black-and-white dog on their way back from Navasota. They pick up the dog and bring her back to school so they can care for her. She is quickly named “Reveille” when she barks during the bugler’s morning wake-up call.
The 12th Man

The tradition of the Twelfth Man was born on January 2, 1922. The Aggies were playing Centre College, the nation's top-ranked team at the time. As the hard-fought game wore on, the Aggies were forced to dig deep into their limited reserves because of injuries. Coach Dana X. Bible remembered that a former squad member, who was playing basketball at the time, was in the press box helping reporters identify players. His name was E. King Gill. Gill was called from the stands, suited up, and stood ready throughout the rest of the game, which A&M finally won 22 to 14. Gill later said, “I wish I could say that I went in and ran for the winning touchdown, but I didn’t. I simply got ready and waited—just in case I was needed.”

Although Gill did not play in the game, he had accepted the call to help his team. He came to be known as the “12th Man” because he stood ready in case the 11 men on the gridiron needed him. That spirit of readiness for service, desire to support, and enthusiasm helped kindle a flame of devotion among the entire student body, a spirit that has grown vigorously throughout the years. The entire student body at A&M is the “12th Man,” and they stand during the entire game to show their support. The “12th Man” is always in the stands waiting to be called upon if needed.

Yell Leaders

For over 100 years, the Yell Leaders have embodied the unique Aggie Spirit for which Texas A&M is so well known. The Yell Leaders are comprised of five students (two juniors and three seniors) that are elected by the student body. They are the official spirit organization of the university, and they lead Aggie fans in “yells” during athletic and other university events using a variety of hand signals, called “pass backs,” to direct and intensify the crowd.

The Texas Aggie Yell Leaders represent the 12th Man at Aggie athletic events and serve as campus ambassadors across Texas and the U.S. The Yell Leaders can always be found on the sidelines of the playing field or court in front of the student section. Additionally, they can be seen annually at the Texas A&M Coach’s Nights, all new student conferences, all Fish Camp sessions, and numerous campus events hosted by student organizations and university departments.
Howdy

In true Aggie Spirit, “Howdy” is the official greeting of Texas A&M. The university is known for its welcoming attitude and for making sure no one who visits the campus feels like a stranger. Visitors often say they find the friendliness of the campus remarkable. They tell stories of looking lost only to have an Aggie walk up, say “Howdy,” offer to help and, to their amazement, walk with them to make sure they arrive at their destination. While the exact origin of this tradition is not known, “Howdy” has come to be a tradition that sets Texas A&M apart as one of the friendliest campuses in the world, where all are welcome.

Midnight Yell Practice

Where other schools have cheers, Aggies proudly (and loudly) show enthusiasm through their many yells. They shout these yells at Midnight Yell Practice to build motivation and spirit for an upcoming event, whether it is a football game or another competition.

Yell Practice began as a post-dinner activity in the early 1900’s, when different Corps companies would gather together to “learn heartily the old time pep.” However, it was not until 1931 that Midnight Yell, as it is known today, was held before the t.u. game. It began when a group of cadets were gathered in Peanut Owen’s dorm room in Puryear Hall. Someone suggested that all of the freshmen should fall out and meet on the steps of the YMCA building at midnight. The Yell Leaders at the time said that they couldn’t make it official, but they just might show up. Needless to say, the word spread quickly, and when the freshmen began to arrive, railroad flares and torpedoes were stuck in flower pots around the YMCA building to light the area. The first Midnight Yell Practice had begun!

For home football games, Yell Practice occurs at midnight the Friday before the game at Kyle Field. For an away game, Yell Practice is held Thursday evening at Kyle Field, then Friday at midnight in the town of the opponent. The purpose is to pump up the 12th Man for the next day’s big game!

Midnight Yell Practice has been dubbed a “College Football Bucket List” item and is one of Texas A&M’s most well-known traditions.

SPIRIT OF AGGIELAND

Some may boast of prowess bold
Of the school they think so grand,
But there's a spirit can ne'er be told,
It's the Spirit of Aggieland.

(Chorus)
We are the Aggies—
the Aggies are we,
True to each other as Aggies can be.
We've got to fight boys,
We've got to fight!
We've got to fight for Maroon and White.

After they've boosted all the rest,
They will come and join the best,
For we are the Aggies—
the Aggies are we,
We're from Texas AMC.

Fight! Fight! Fight-fight-fight!
Fight! Maroon! White-White-White!
A-G-G-I-E
Texas! Texas! A-M-C!

Good-bye to Texas university,

They are the boys

“The eyes of Texas are upon you…”
That is the song they sing so well,
So good-bye to Texas university,
We're going to beat you all to—

THE TWELFTH MAN

(Sung if the Aggies are behind when the time runs out)
Texas Aggies down in Aggieland,
We've got Aggie Spirit to a man.
“Stand united!”
That's the Aggie theme,
We're the 12th Man on the team.
When we're down,
the goin's rough and tough,
We just grin and yell:
“We've got the stuff
To fight together for the Aggie dream,”
We're the 12th Man on that
FIGHTIN’ AGGIE TEAM!

TEXAS, OUR TEXAS

(Official State Song)
Texas—Our Texas!—
All hail the mighty State!—
Texas—Our Texas!—
So wonderful and great!—
Darkest—and grandest,—
Withstanding ev'ry test,—
O, Empire wide and glorious,—
You stand supremely blest.
God bless—you Texas,—
And keep you brave and strong,
That you may grow in power and worth,
throughout the ages long.
God bless—you Texas,—
And keep you brave and strong,
That you may grow in power and worth,
throughout the ages long.

HOT TIME

Took a lantern in the shed.

He winked and then he said,

facebook.com/AcademicSuccessCenterTAMU

The Academic Success Center (ASC) represents a collaboration between Academic Affairs and Student Affairs. The ASC's mission is to provide all Aggies with access to comprehensive resources and support so that they can achieve their academic goals and fulfill their academic potential. Their holistic approach fosters mental and physical well-being and encourages students to identify roadblocks; set realistic, attainable, and personally fulfilling academic goals; and take ownership of their learning. ASC programs and services are listed below.

Academic Coaching:
Students can set up one-to-one appointments with Academic Coaches who provide guidance on improving time management and strategic learning along with help identifying obstacles to academic success. Coaches discuss and review resources and additional offices on campus to help students succeed.

Supplemental Instruction (SI):
SI, supported by The Association of Former Students, the Academic Success Center, and participating academic departments, is an award-winning academic assistance program designed to improve academic performance and increase retention. It targets traditionally difficult core curriculum courses and provides regularly scheduled, out-of-class, organized group study sessions. SI sessions are led by undergraduate SI Leaders who have taken and excelled in the course to which they are assigned. SI leaders use proactive learning and study strategies to develop participants' active and independent learning skills. SI leaders attend all course lectures, take notes, and read the assigned materials. SI sessions are free and are open to all students in the course section; attendance is voluntary.

Transfer Student Programs (TSP):
TSP is designed for incoming transfer students to inform them about the resources at Texas A&M; connect them with other transfer students, faculty, and staff; and actively engage them on all levels of the university. Joining the TSP community will provide transfer students with access to dedicated peer mentors and staff who will help them with questions, point them to resources, and encourage them as they adjust to their new surroundings.

Tutor Hubs:
Tutor Hubs are on-site tutoring locations in various places around campus, such as White Creek Apartments, Evans Library, Commons, and Hullabaloo Hall. Tutor Hub tutors have excellent academic skills and are trained in learning strategies and study skills. Their goal is to develop independent learning and confidence in students who need academic help. Tutors are available in a wide range of subjects in high-demand and traditionally difficult courses, including chemistry, mathematics, biology, economics, and physics. To find the current tutoring schedule, check successcenter.tamu.edu. Students can visit with tutors at no cost.

Manage Your Time
Good time management is one major key to success in college. On the first day of class, you will receive a syllabus for each class that lists out the dates for every assignment and test. From there, you can identify your responsibilities and prioritize these by day and by week. Here are a few tips to keep in mind as you begin to plan out your semester:

• Take care of the big tasks first. These are the ones that we tend to procrastinate the most. Break the big projects into smaller, more manageable steps and identify time every day to work on it.

• Develop a weekly routine. Carry a calendar and prepare realistic to-do lists. Sometimes seeing what is on your list can help you organize similar items together, which is a great time-saving technique.

• Manage distractions. Respect your time. Don't waste it by giving in to distractions. If studying at home is too distracting, find a quiet alternative like the library, a coffee shop, an open classroom, or computer lab.

• Analyze and budget your time. Consider how you spend your time now and budget the necessary time to accomplish all of your tasks. Don't forget to schedule time for adequate sleep and exercise.

Study Smart
Assessing your own learning style and developing a personal study system is an integral part of your success in college. Generally, for every one hour you spend in class, you should spend three hours studying for that class. The Academic Success Center services are valuable (and FREE!) resources for help with note-taking, determining your learning style, or developing study skills. Here are a few simple tips to get you started towards studying smart:

• Read the assigned material and previous week's notes. This will prepare you to contribute in class and to ask questions.

• During the lecture, try to be an active listener. By asking questions or making comments for clarification, you will be more likely to understand and remember the material during an exam.

• Experiment with note-taking methods to find what works for you. After class, review your notes or use your book or a friend's notes to fill in areas you may have missed. Type/rewrite and organize your notes if necessary.

• Stay current with the assigned readings and review your notes on a weekly basis. This will help you retain information across the semester and prevent late-night cramming before a test.

Understanding Add/Drop & Q-Drop

WEB: student-rules.tamu.edu/rule01
EMAIL: records@tamu.edu
PHONE: (979) 845-1031

A student may drop a course with no record during the designated Add/Drop registration period each semester. Following the Add/Drop registration period, a student can drop a course with no record through the first 12 class days of a fall or spring semester and during the first four class days of a summer term or 10-week summer semesters with the approval of the student's dean. Following this period, if approved by the dean of the student's college, a student may drop a course without penalty (called Q-Drop) through the 60th class day of a fall or spring semester, the 15th class day of a 5-week summer term, or the 35th class day of the 10-week summer semester. Under section 51.907 of the Texas Education Code, “an institution of higher education may not permit a student to drop more than six courses, including any course a transfer student has dropped at another institution of higher education.” Undergraduate students are normally permitted four Q-drops at Texas A&M during their undergraduate career.

However, in order to comply with this statute, a student who has dropped courses at other Texas public institutions may not be permitted four Q-drops if the student's total number of dropped courses would exceed the State limit of six. Q-drops are processed in the academic deans and/or departmental offices.
For many years Aggies have followed a Code of Honor, which is stated in this very simple verse: “Aggies do not lie, cheat or steal, or tolerate those who do.”

The Aggie Code of Honor is an effort to unify the aims of all Texas A&M community members toward a high code of ethics and personal dignity. For most, living under this code will be no problem, as it asks nothing of a person that is beyond reason. It only calls for honesty and integrity, characteristics that Aggies have always exemplified.

The Aggie Code of Honor functions as a symbol to all Aggies, promoting understanding and loyalty to truth and confidence in each other.

Upon accepting admission to Texas A&M University, a student immediately assumes a commitment to uphold the Honor Code, to accept responsibility for learning, and to follow the philosophy and rules of the Honor System. Students will be required to state their commitment on examinations, research papers, and other academic work. Ignorance of the rules does not exclude any member of the A&M community from the requirements or the processes of the Aggie Honor System Office. Texas A&M University is dedicated to the discovery, development, communication, and application of knowledge in a wide range of academic and professional fields.

The Aggie Honor System Office is charged with the responsibility of continuing an Aggie tradition that dates from our earliest days. Aggies pride themselves in hard work, integrity, and allegiance. Living in accordance with the Aggie Code of Honor is critical to these ideals, to the goal of assuming a place of preeminence in higher education, and to the development of the whole student.

The Honor Council consists of students and faculty members and is a critical part of the Aggie Honor System Office. The council enforces sanctions when students acquire information from unauthorized sources, provide information without authorization, plagiarize, conspire to violate principles of academic integrity, violate academic rules, or falsify information. The Aggie Code of Honor does not function as a tool to force honor by fear; instead it acts as a symbol of our understanding of and loyalty to truth and our confidence in each other.

LAUNCH provides high-impact educational experiences and challenges motivated students in all academic disciplines to graduate from an enriched, demanding curriculum. The programs administered by the office bring together outstanding students and faculty to build a community of knowledge-producers, life-long learners, nationally-recognized scholars, and world citizens. Through LAUNCH, motivated students have access to Honors courses, co-curricular enrichment activities, and research programs that can be customized to enhance each student’s personal, professional, and intellectual development.

As recognized “high impact practices,” LAUNCH: Learning Communities, LAUNCH: Undergraduate Research, and LAUNCH: Capstones--which are available to Honors and non-Honors students alike--increase undergraduate student learning and success not only while students are at Texas A&M, but long after graduation.

LAUNCH: Honors students have access to numerous special services and programs. Throughout the academic year, our office coordinates recreational and community-building events, lectures, and workshops. Honors students are invited to engage in leadership opportunities and contribute to the development of university-level honors programming through the Honors Student Council, the University Scholars program, and as Honors Housing Community leaders.

LAUNCH: National Fellowships coordinates the campus nomination processes for various national fellowship competitions, including the Rhodes, Truman, and Goldwater scholarships.
Drop by any of our five libraries and you will find staff available at every AskUs desk to answer questions, assist with locating materials, consult for special projects and provide guidance with your research. Each library offers a variety of study spaces for groups or individuals.

Centrally located, the library offers traditional research materials such as books and journals as well as DVDs, equipment for check-out, and extensive study spaces. The Evans Library Annex holds additional collections, reading rooms, and group study spaces. The Annex offers checkouts for iPods, laptops, DVDs, CDs, Kindles, and video cameras.

Cushing Memorial Library and Archives houses special collections, manuscripts, archives, and rare materials that can be made available to interested researchers. The Archives also contains the history of Texas A&M University.

The Medical Sciences Library (MSL) serves the College of Veterinary Medicine and Biomedical Sciences, Texas A&M Health Science Center, and the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences. The MSL houses biomedical books, journals, and electronic resources, as well as related materials in agriculture and the life sciences, such as biochemistry, animal science, nutrition, and the plant sciences.

The West Campus Library (WCL) primarily serves students in the Mays Business School. The WCL offers extensive electronic resources, special collections and study areas for collaborative and individual class projects.
Texas A&M University offers a wide range of transformational and international opportunities coordinated by academic colleges and the Study Abroad Programs Office. These opportunities help prepare Texas A&M students to become leaders in the global economy. Multinational corporations are looking for employees who have engaged in culturally diverse experiences and can live and compete in the international marketplace. Adding an international experience to your Texas A&M University degree will broaden your perspectives and help you prepare for your career.

Students from every discipline can participate in a variety of international programs. The Study Abroad Programs Office helps facilitate courses taught by A&M faculty overseas; exchanges; intern, research and volunteer programs; transfer credit and direct enrollment opportunities; and international field trips. Programs can be as short as a week, or as long as an academic year. Aggies can also study for a semester or summer session at one of the A&M locations overseas: the Soltis Center for Education and Research in Costa Rica, or the A&M branch campus in Qatar.

Each year, Texas A&M provides more than $500,000 in scholarships for credit-bearing international experiences. In addition, the Global Opportunity Fund provides $1 million in support for low income students to study abroad. Students can also apply their financial aid to a study abroad program. Many colleges offer additional scholarship support, and the LAUNCH Office assists students in applying for prestigious national scholarships including the National Security Education Program, the Gilman International Scholarship, and the Critical Language Scholarship program.

The University Writing Center (UWC) helps Aggies become more effective and self-confident communicators. We work with students on any kind of written project and at any stage of the creative process—from initial brainstorming to final proofreading.

Our peer consultants are trained to assist with all kinds of writing: lab reports, scholarship essays, or even poetry. They can answer grammar questions, help with citations, suggest ways to improve clarity, and teach students how to edit their own work.

The UWC also helps with oral communication, which can mean advising students on how to organize a speech or helping them create effective PowerPoint slides.

We’re located on the second floor of Evans Library and also have an evening walk-in center at West Campus Library. We offer face-to-face and online appointments.

Students can make appointments at writingcenter.tamu.edu, where you’ll also find great resources, including videos, podcasts, and handouts about writing and speaking.

Remember: Aggies don’t have to write alone. The UWC is here to help!

Being an Aggie means being united to all members of the Aggie Family through a common bond—the Aggie Spirit. Through this spirit, Aggies take pride in their traditions, develop a strong commitment to the service of others, and aspire to academic excellence. This is an exciting time of exploration, development and growth. Challenge yourself in intellect, spirit, mind, body and character, and make the most of your time at A&M by seizing every opportunity.

Know Why You are Here
As you begin at Texas A&M, explore your reasons for choosing to attend college and determine what you hope to obtain from your experience. Being a college student involves much more than being academically successful. It involves developing into a responsible adult in all facets of your life. The decisions you make will often have lifelong effects. Remember your ultimate goal is to complete your degree.

Know Yourself
Living away from home provides freedom and responsibility. It is your opportunity to show who you are and apply your values to everyday choices and take responsibility for your well-being. College can be both exciting and stressful and it is important to take care of yourself both physically and mentally. Eating well-balanced meals and having a daily exercise routine can help minimize stress.

Know Community Concerns & Take Action
As a new member of our community we expect you to uphold the values of Texas A&M, just like those before and after you. Consider your impact on Texas A&M and how the following items play into maintaining an institution strong in integrity and respect:

Academic Integrity:
In addition to the Aggie Code of Honor, the University Student Rules provide guidance to members of our community. These rules are based upon a balance between the rights and responsibilities of individual students and the needs of the community. Cheating, plagiarism or other acts of academic dishonesty diminish the entire process of learning and value of an A&M degree. As a member of the Aggie community, it is your responsibility to understand what constitutes academic dishonesty and uphold your community’s standards. Visit aggiehonor.tamu.edu.
Alcohol:
As you enter a new environment, it is important to establish and follow personal guidelines about alcohol consumption. While you think about your choices, remember that proper use of alcohol is dictated by state law and Texas A&M University Rules. There are benefits to abstaining from alcohol use. Information and programs regarding alcohol and other drugs are available through Health Promotion at studentlife.tamu.edu/hp.

Diversity & Inclusion:
As a major public institution of higher education, Texas A&M University has both an extraordinary opportunity and a special responsibility to create and maintain a climate that affirms diversity of persons as well as diversity of views. Diversity is an indispensable component of academic excellence. A commitment to diversity means a commitment to the inclusion, welcome, and support of individuals from all groups, encompassing the various characteristics of persons in our community. Further information is available through the Department of Multicultural Services at dms.tamu.edu.

Drowsy or Distracted Driving:
Road trips are an integral part of college life, and drowsy driving can be a concern. The college student routine often includes many of the risks most commonly associated with drowsy driving crashes such as: sleep loss, driving late night hours and an active lifestyle that restricts sleep. Before hitting the road, make sure to get a good night's sleep. Cell phone use, especially text messaging, should be limited or avoided to prevent an accident. Some recent statistics on distracted driving: texting while driving is about 6 times more likely to result in an accident than driving while intoxicated; almost 50% of all drivers between the ages of 18 and 24 are texting while driving; and people who text while driving are 23% more likely to be in a car accident.

Relationship Violence:
Relationship violence is a pattern of actual or threatened acts that physically, emotionally, or sexually abuse someone in the relationship. Jealousy, constant criticism, threats, and repeated broken promises are a few warning signs that a relationship may be abusive. Dating abuse is a pattern of controlling behaviors that one partner uses to get power over the other. Acquaintance rape and sexual assault are also relationship concerns that students should be aware of. Information, education, and support regarding relationship violence or sexual assault are available through the Office of the Dean of Student Life (979.845.3111), Student Assistance Services (979.845.3113 or sas.tamu.edu), the Women’s Resource Center (979.845.8784 or wrc.tamu.edu), and Health Promotion (979.845.0280 or studentlife.tamu.edu/hp).
As a student at Texas A&M, you join more than half a million other Aggies in the worldwide Aggie Network, the strongest alumni network in the world. The Association of Former Students touches every A&M student through support for programs that enhance the student experience; through monetary resources for scholarships, student assistance funds, and other needs; and by cultivating experiences that impact students.

Traditions like Muster, Big Event, the Aggie Ring, and Midnight Yell Practice will be integral to your Aggie journey, and those traditions are all supported by generous annual donations from former students, families, faculty, staff, and other supporters of The Association.

We encourage you to get involved and immediately begin building your Aggie Network, which will be a valuable resource for a lifetime. Dedicated staff members in the Campus Programs department are here to assist you while you are a student. Come visit us at the Clayton W. Williams, Jr. Alumni Center, on the corner of George Bush Drive and Houston Street. The Association of Former Students is HERE for Aggies during their days as students and former students, THERE for Aggies as they make their way around the world, and EVERYWHERE that the Aggie Network needs us to be.
Every student is required to have a student ID card. The student ID is a state issued identification card and upon requesting the card the student must provide a valid form of governmental photo identification. ID cards are permanent and students are responsible for maintaining a working ID throughout their career at the University. The Aggie Card is used for residence hall access, registration, fee collection, financial aid disbursement, dining halls, athletic events, recreational sports admittance, and library privileges. There is a fee for replacement ID cards. Students who lose their IDs can report the loss immediately, deactivate, and request a replacement card online at myaggiecard.tamu.edu.

The Campus Ministry Association (CMA) exists to foster mutual respect, personal fellowship and cooperation among the professional religious workers who work with Texas A&M students. The CMA promotes respect for all the religious traditions and views that exist in our university community. Members of CMA are committed to assist, with the University as a partner, in educating the whole person. As a representative of the Campus Ministry Association, individual ministers are respectful of all faiths and can minister to students of all religious traditions. Campus Ministers are also located off campus in their respective places of worship. Many of these are within walking distance of the campus.
Concerned about someone’s behavior? Tell somebody.

On a college campus sometimes behaviors of concern have gone unreported until a tragedy occurs, then people come forward with bits of information that, in retrospect, may have signaled a larger issue. This information when viewed collectively may be helpful in preventing tragic events and initiating assistance to an individual. Texas A&M University is committed to a proactive approach and needs your help.

As a member of this University community, if you observe any behavior that is concerning, please go to tellsomebody.tamu.edu and provide detailed information on the report form. This report goes to members of the Special Situations Team. This team is comprised of University faculty and staff charged with helping students, faculty, and staff who are exhibiting concerning behavior.

If you are concerned with someone’s behavior, call the following numbers during business hours:

In reference to student behavior: 979-845-3111 (Offices of the Dean of Student Life)
In reference to staff behavior: 979-845-3711 (Human Resources –Employee Assistance Program)
In reference to faculty behavior: 979-845-4274 (Dean of Faculties)

For all emergencies, please call 911

Code Maroon

Code Maroon is Texas A&M’s Emergency Notification System, and gives the University the ability to communicate health and safety emergency information quickly—by text message, email, KAMU-FM radio, campus cable television, Emergency Alert System radios, computer alerts, classroom alerts, Twitter, and RSS. Code Maroon emergency alerts are automatically sent to Texas A&M Gmail accounts ending with “@email.tamu.edu” and Texas A&M Exchange email addresses. If you wish to receive Code Maroon notifications by text, you must enroll at codemaroon.tamu.edu. Family members can also enroll for Code Maroon notifications.

Emergency Phones

Strategically placed throughout the campus and campus parking garages are 163 "Blue-Light" emergency phones. By calling 911, the user is in immediate contact with Brazos County 9-1-1 system. These emergency phones can also be used to call for local non-emergency assistance such as a campus escort by pressing the “ON” button.

Escort Services

Escort services provide added security for walking on campus. The Corps of Cadets Guard Room provides a free escort service from 6 p.m. to 7 a.m. during the fall and spring semesters only. By calling 979-845-6789, an on-duty Corps representative will meet the person requesting the escort and walk with them to most central on-campus locations (residence halls, parking lots, etc.).

Late Evening Bus Service

Night service is offered on limited routes during fall and spring semesters from 7:30 p.m. until midnight. Check maps and times at transport.tamu.edu/busroutes.

Railroad Safety

The trains that run through College Station do not run on a schedule, so plan extra time if you have to cross the tracks to get to class. Do not stop your vehicle on the tracks while waiting at red lights. Do not try to cross the tracks once the arms are coming down. The arms come down approximately 15 seconds before the train arrives at the crossing. Do not walk on the railroad tracks. They are private property. You will be trespassing. Do not try to jump on the trains, you could be seriously injured or killed.
The Texas A&M University Police Department provides law enforcement and security services to all components of Texas A&M University including the academic campus and a variety of satellite facilities throughout the Brazos County. The department maintains a fully staffed investigations division, a crime prevention unit, a training division, and a state-of-the-art Emergency Communications Center. The jurisdiction of UPD Police Officers includes all counties in which property is owned, leased, rented, or otherwise under Texas A&M University control. As peace officers, the Department’s police officers have the same authority to detain and arrest as any police officer in the state of Texas.

To provide a safe and secure campus for our students, staff, faculty, and visitors, the department has armed uniformed police officers on patrol 24 hours a day, year round. Unarmed UPD Security Officers work closely with Police Officers by patrolling university properties and staffing fixed posts at some facilities. Any criminal offense, suspected criminal activity, or other emergencies on campus should be reported directly to the University Police by telephone, in person, or by dialing 911 from any campus phone or by using one of the 163 emergency blue light telephones located throughout campus and campus parking garages. Residence Hall entrances and campus elevators are also equipped with emergency phones. Upon receipt of the call, the Texas A&M University Police Communications Center personnel can supply information or dispatch officers as necessary. UPD will respond as quickly and safely as possible to any request for assistance, whether it is an emergency or not. Response time is based on current activity and severity of the call. Crimes in progress, alarms, traffic accidents with injuries, and medical assists have a higher priority than other types of calls. If you witness a crime or emergency, promptly report it to the UPD and be prepared to answer questions as accurately as possible.
The Texas A&M University Career Center provides comprehensive services to assist you in planning your career, gaining work-related experience, seeking admission to graduate and professional school, and securing professional employment upon graduation through Campus Programs, Experiential Education, Employment Services and Professional School Advising. The best place to get that information is at the Student Business Services home page at sbs.tamu.edu, in the Class Schedule, which you can access at MyRecord in Howdy, or by accessing your TAMU e-mail account. Aggie Answers, found on the homepage, is also a resource for frequently asked questions within a knowledge base that is searchable by keywords. You can also ask SBS questions related to your account through Aggie Answers-Ask a Question. If you keep up with the information provided by these three resources, you should never be canceled for non-payment of tuition and fees.

Returned checks are assessed a financial penalty and should be avoided. Many students come to campus never having had a checking account. You will find that having one is almost a necessity. If you are new to checking accounts, ask your family or your bank’s customer service department to explain how they work.

If you need to view the rules in an alternate format, please contact the Offices of the Dean of Student Life at 979.845.3111. It is each student’s responsibility to know, be aware of, and abide by these rules and regulations. The following address only a few of the student rules.

Hazing

Texas A&M University strictly prohibits hazing. A summary of the definition of hazing as defined in the Texas A&M University Student Rules is, “Any act that endangers the mental or physical health or safety of a student, or that destroys or removes public or private property; and/or assisting, directing, or in any way causing others to participate in degrading behavior and/or behavior that causes ridicule, humiliation, or embarrassment; and/or engaging in conduct which tends to bring the reputation of the organization, group, or University into disrepute for the purpose of initiation, admission into, affiliation with, or as a condition for continued membership in a group or organization; or as part of any activity of a recognized student organization, student group, Corps of Cadets, Corps outfit, Corps unit, or Corps Special Activities. Previously relied upon ‘traditions,’ (including Corps, fraternity/sorority, or any other group or organization activity, practice or tradition) intent of such acts, or coercion by current or former student leaders of such groups, or former students will not suffice as a justifiable reason for participation in such acts. It is not a defense that the person (or group) against whom the hazing was directed consented to, or acquiesced to, the behavior in question.” Students have a responsibility to uphold the Texas A&M University Student Rules. As such, the Texas A&M Student Rule on hazing also states, “Having firsthand knowledge of the planning of such activities or firsthand knowledge that an incident of this type has occurred and failing to report it to appropriate University officials (the Dean of Student Life and/or the University Police Department) is also a violation under this section. Students who are recipients and/or victims of hazing (and who have not perpetrated hazing behavior on others involved in the fact pattern for which they are responsible) will not be charged with a violation of the hazing rule.” Hazing is also a violation of Texas state law.

Scholastic Probation

Scholastic probation is a conditional permission for an undergraduate student to continue in the University after they has become scholastically deficient. An undergraduate student is scholastically deficient when his or her semester or cumulative grade point ratio is less than 2.00 or when grade point requirements in the student's major field of study are not met. The department and/or dean of the student's college can grant conditional permission when analysis of the deficiency indicates that a continuation is in the best interest of the student and the University. The record made by a student while on probation determines whether they shall regain good academic standing, granted a continuation on probation, or suspended from the University for scholastic deficiency.

Excused Absences

As outlined in Texas A&M University Student Rule 7, the university views class attendance as an individual student responsibility. Students are expected to attend class and to complete all assignments. Instructors are expected to give adequate notice of the dates on which major tests will be given and assignments will be due. This information should be provided on the course syllabus, which should be distributed at the first class meeting. Students who are requesting an excused absence are expected to uphold the Aggie Honor Code and Student Conduct Code (See Rule 24). Students may be excused from attending class on the day of a graded activity or when attendance contributes to a student's grade, for the reasons stated in Section 7.1, or other reason deemed appropriate by the student's instructor. To be excused the student must notify his or her instructor in writing (acknowledged e-mail message is acceptable) prior to the date of absence if such notification is feasible. In cases where advance notification is not feasible (e.g. accident or emergency) the student must provide notification by the end of the second working day after the absence. This notification should include an explanation of why notice could not be sent prior to the class.

If needed, the student must provide additional documentation substantiating the reason for the absence that is satisfactory to the instructor within one week of the last date of the absence. If the absence is excused, the instructor must either provide the student an opportunity to make up any quiz, exam or other graded activities or provide a satisfactory alternative to be completed within 30 calendar days from the last day of the absence.

Harassment and Discrimination

Texas A&M is committed to the fundamental principles of academic freedom, equality of opportunity, and human dignity. To fulfill its multiple missions as an institution of higher learning, Texas A&M encourages a climate that values and nurtures collegiality, diversity, pluralism, and the uniqueness of the individual within our state, nation and world. All decisions and actions involving students and employees should be based on applicable law and individual merit. Texas A&M University, in accordance with applicable federal and state law, prohibits discrimination, including harassment, on the basis of race, color, national or ethnic origin, religion, sex, disability, age, sexual orientation, or veteran status. Individuals who believe they have experienced harassment or discrimination prohibited by this statement are encouraged to contact the appropriate offices within their respective units. Students should contact the Offices of the Dean of Student Life at 979.845.3111.

Alcohol

Individuals must be at least 21 years old to purchase, possess, or consume alcoholic beverages. Texas A&M University is an educational institution dedicated to the pursuit of excellence, the promotion of academic achievement, and the advancement of knowledge. Because of the University’s interest in the intellectual, physical, and psychological well-being of the campus community, it is important that the University take steps to curtail the abusive or illegal use of alcoholic beverages. Educating students about the effects of misuse and use of alcohol will help accomplish these goals.
Resources, Rights, and Options in Cases of Sexual Harassment, Sexual Assault, Dating Violence, Domestic Violence, or Stalking

Sexual harassment is a form of sex discrimination. Unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors and other verbal, nonverbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature constitutes sexual harassment when this conduct is so severe, persistent, or pervasive that it explicitly or implicitly affects an individual’s employment, unreasonably interferes with an individual’s work or educational performance, or creates an intimidating, or hostile work or educational environment. Sexual Assault, Dating Violence, Domestic Violence, and Stalking often fall under the broader context of Sexual Harassment. One huge misconception regarding sexual assault is that most of the time the perpetrator is a stranger. However, research indicates that approximately 2/3 of sexual assaults are committed by someone known to the victim. Sexual assault is an act of violence, which utilizes power and control over another. Tactics may include force, threats, intimidation, or physical violence. Many victims struggle with identifying whether they have been sexually assaulted due to tactics such as manipulation, restraint, victim blaming, and taking advantage of another’s level of intoxication. An individual who has been victimized by a person they are familiar with may know that they were forced to have sex without their consent or approval, but they may not recognize the fact that it was indeed sexual assault.

A student who has been a victim of sexual harassment (including sexual misconduct or stalking), domestic violence, or dating violence, whether it occurred on or off-campus, has certain resources, rights, and options available. A student who witnesses, is subjected to, or is informed about incidents of sexual discrimination, sexual harassment (including sexual violence), and/or related retaliation has the option to file a Title IX complaint to the designated official below who handles alleged violations perpetrated by students, faculty, staff, or unrelated third parties. Resources including advocacy, counseling, health and medical services, and legal support are all available at the University. Students may also have access to interim measures (e.g., change in housing, class schedules) that may be needed until the resolution of the complaint. Alleged offenders are afforded equal opportunities for representation and access to information regarding the investigation. The confidentiality issues surrounding complaints of this nature are supported as fully as possible for all parties involved.

HOW DO I REPORT AN INCIDENT?

<th>If the alleged offender is a:</th>

As Texas A&M University, we believe sexual harassment and sexual violence have no place in our community or beyond. Aggies have an unwavering commitment to serving others and protecting each other. We hold ourselves to a higher standard through our core values – excellence, integrity, leadership, loyalty, respect and selfless service. It is up to us – students, faculty, and staff – to step in as active participants to end sexual harassment and sexual violence in our community, and stand up to support the survivors of these behaviors. What harms even one of us, harms us all. Visit stepinstandup.tamu.edu for more information.

Green Dot is one way to learn how to step in and stand up. Green Dot is a comprehensive approach to violence prevention that capitalizes on power of peer and cultural influences. To learn more about Green Dot or to sign-up for a training, please visit greendot.tamu.edu.
Vehicles parked on campus are required to display a permit, except for those parked in designated visitor's spaces. To get the best parking available, register online by the July 11 priority deadline. Parking is at a premium on Texas A&M's campus; MOST customers are not assigned to their first choice for parking. Often the available parking may not be immediately adjacent to your building or facility. For more information about parking permits or to view the Parking Rules and Regulations, visit Transportation Services online at transport.tamu.edu/parkingreg. The university operates an on-campus transit system that can be used by anyone on campus, fare-free. This is a quick and efficient mode of transportation for students who want to move about the campus. During the fall and spring semesters, regular on-campus transit service runs Monday through Friday, from approximately 7 a.m. to 7:30 p.m., with limited service until midnight and on the weekend. Access bus route information via the university mobile app at m.tamu.edu. Bicycles are a great way to get to, from, and around campus. Bike services include bike registration, the new Ofo bike share program, bike lease program, borrow-a-bike, summer bike storage and maintenance stations. For more information, visit transport.tamu.edu/bicycles. Don't have a car? There are plenty of alternatives, including carshare, rideshare, the new ofo bike share and break/weekend shuttles to major Texas cities. For more Alternative Transportation options, visit transport.tamu.edu/alternative.

On-Campus Residents
If you register for parking prior to receiving your housing assignment, you will have an opportunity in July to make final changes to your parking (to match your housing assignment) without jeopardizing the priority of your request. A reminder will be sent to your Texas A&M email account.

The Corps of Cadets is the largest, oldest and most visible student organization at Texas A&M. It is also one of the largest uniformed bodies of students in the nation, outside of the military academies. Currently, over 2,450 young men and women are Corps members.

It starts with a world-class University with over 140 years of tradition. The Corps then builds on that foundation, guiding cadets as they develop their leadership capabilities while enjoying the benefits of being at one of the nation's premier universities. Most cadet graduates pursue a career in the public and private sector; however, the Corps of Cadets consistently commissions more officers than any institution other than the service academies. An average of 40-45% of cadets pursue a military commission.

Academic excellence is the top priority of the Corps of Cadets, offering scholastic advising, tutoring, cadet-led support programs as well as access to state-of-the-art academic facilities such as the Buzbee and Ash Leadership Learning Centers, located in the area of the Corps dorms known as the Quad. The Corps provides a structured, disciplined environment conducive to academic excellence, including required study periods five days per week and quiet hours in the dorms supervised by upperclassmen.

The Corps of Cadets has been developing leaders of character for our state and nation since 1876. Cadets learn leadership in a military-style environment that complements their academic education and prepares them for a lifetime of success. In addition to leadership opportunities in the Corps, our cadets gain valuable leadership experience in student government and other student activities.

Many of Texas A&M’s most cherished traditions grew out of the Corps, including Midnight Yell Practice, Aggie Muster, and Silver Taps. The Corps views itself as the “Keepers of the Spirit” and the “Guardians of Tradition.” These endeavors add to the unique and cherished A&M experience for all students and create lifelong memories for the accomplished graduates of the Corps.

The Corps of Cadets is a large and diverse program with 44 units, each with unique traits and offerings. Students join a unit based on their interests and ROTC choice. All freshman and sophomore cadets are required to enroll in basic ROTC courses. As a junior, cadets will make a decision to pursue a commission as a military officer. If so, they will continue in advanced ROTC courses and be commissioned into the Army, Navy, Air Force, or Marines upon graduation. Cadets live on campus with their unit in the Corps dorms, building lifelong friendships with the members of their class as well as the upperclassmen.

Hollingsworth Center for Ethical Leadership Cadets who want to pursue non-military careers — whether in the private sector or in public service — declare themselves Leadership Certificate candidates after their second year in the Corps. Cadets in the Certificate in Leadership Studies program stay with their units through their entire time in the Corps, share the personal growth and fellowship that only the Corps of Cadets can offer and enroll in a curriculum of leadership study and practice available exclusively to members of the Corps of Cadets. The certificate in Leadership Study and Development is an academic award that is noted on the student's official university transcript.

The Certificate in Leadership Studies program includes full participation in the Corps of Cadets, 12 credit hours of university-recognized leadership coursework – four one-hour School of Military Sciences courses and eight credit hours from other Texas A&M Departments. Cadets must maintain a minimum 3.0 grade point average in this coursework to receive credit. The focus is on three components – academics, application and experience. Cadets receive targeted learning experiences and the opportunity to put their skills into practice within the Corps, campus organizations and internships both on and off campus.
The Fightin’ Texas Aggie Band
“The Pulse of Aggieland” is nationally famous for its renowned unique style of military precision drill and is the nation’s largest collegiate military style marching band. All members of the Aggie Band are part of the Corps of Cadets. Band members live, eat, and are housed together as a unit of the Corps. The Aggie Band is the only major college band in which members live together as a unit. Performing at all home football games and several away games, the Aggie Band is one of the most-traveled university marching bands in the nation.

Parsons Mounted Cavalry
Formed in 1973, it is the successor to the mounted cavalry units that played a central role in A&M’s history. This is a ‘parade and show’ unit composed of junior and senior cadets who represent the university at events across Texas.

The Ross Volunteer Company
Organized in 1887, the Ross Volunteers are the oldest student organization in the state and is composed of selected junior and senior cadets. The unit is the official honor guard for the Governor of Texas.

Fish Drill Team
A drill unit composed entirely of freshman cadets. They compete in precision drill competitions around the country and have won the national championship almost every year since they were created in 1946.

Corps Color Guard
Renowned statewide, presents the Colors at Corps march-ins and reviews as well as many events across the state of Texas.

Simpson Honor Society
Recognizes and rewards cadets with a cumulative GPR of at least 3.2 who foster new ideas of academic achievement, leadership and character in the Corps and promote scholastic excellence through academic-related projects including tutoring and academic mentoring.

Special Operations Units
Sponsored by the various ROTC detachments at Texas A&M, these units provide highly motivated cadets opportunities to further develop their leadership skills, physical conditioning, and small-unit tactical knowledge. Their training activities regularly feature such things as land navigation and orienteering, rappelling, field craft, small-unit training exercises, water orientation, diving and other adventure-type training. These units include the Army’s Ranger Challenge Team and Rudder’s Rangers, Navy SEAL Platoon, Marine Recon Platoon and the Air Force’s Arnold Air Society. ROTC staff members supervise their activities. They are often asked to assist in mentoring ROTC cadets during summer training or through special military training opportunities such as Army Airborne, Air Assault or Ranger courses or Navy SEAL training.

Corps Athletics Program
An opportunity for athletes in the Corps to compete at a high level in a variety of sports, all cadets with a qualifying grade point ratio are eligible to try out for teams that include baseball, men’s and women’s basketball, softball, marksmanship, men’s and women’s soccer, lacrosse and running teams.

Advanced Course ROTC Contracts
The University’s commitment to providing highly skilled and disciplined leaders to the Armed Forces requires all students enrolled in ROTC programs at Texas A&M University to be members in the Corps of Cadets. The University offers both four-year (Advanced) and two-year (Basic) Army, Air Force, and Navy/Marine ROTC programs. While participation in the Basic ROTC program is required for Freshman and Sophomore members of the Corps of Cadets, it carries no military obligation or commitment (unless the student is a four- or three-year ROTC scholarship recipient) and is solely designed to provide leadership instruction and military familiarization. The advanced course is only entered into after applying for and being awarded a contract or scholarship from one of the ROTC programs, is taught during the Junior and Senior years, and leads to a Military Officer Commission upon graduation. Acceptance of an advanced course ROTC contract requires completion of the basic and advanced course ROTC curriculum, completion of ROTC summer training (which varies by service) and the acceptance of a reserve commission if one is tendered. Texas A&M is well known throughout the military departments for its exceptional officer development program—which includes producing more than 250 General officers as well as eight Aggies who have been awarded the Medal of Honor.

Fish Camp, a freshman’s first tradition, is one of the oldest programs at Texas A&M and helps welcome incoming freshmen students to campus life. It began in 1954 when YMCA Director Gordon Gay took a few cadets camping. Fish Camp’s popularity has led it to run as seven back-to-back sessions led by more than 1,200 student leaders and the ability to accommodate over 7,000 freshmen.

Held in August, this optional four-day experience is designed to provide a mix of education about Texas A&M traditions, information about being successful in college, and opportunities to build lasting friendships. The daily schedule is formatted with skits, activities, games, and discussions focusing on topics such as university resources, personal goals, Aggie traditions and history, campus involvement, and study habits. Fish Camp provides both small and large group interactions to create an environment that allows for meeting fellow classmates and promotes the development of mentoring relationships. Freshman students are organized into seven large groups called Camps. Each Camp assigns two upperclassmen students to serve as mentors and discussion group leaders for small groups of 10-15 freshmen.

Fish Camp is open to Blinn TEAM and all new TAMU freshmen attending classes on the College Station campus. Registration begins Monday, May 21st at 3 p.m. CST, and closes in late June or when spots are filled. Scholarship applications are available for those with financial need who register in the first weeks of camp registration.

EMAIL: excel@tamu.edu
PHONE: (979) 862-2000

Texas A&M’s Excellence uniting Culture, Education, and Leadership (ExCEL) is an organization designed to help students find academic, social, and personal balance at Texas A&M by fostering a community where they can culturally identify and connect to campus. Since 1984, ExCEL has assisted new Aggies in making a smooth transition to college through a program and conference that cultivates relationships between peers and mentors, provides a sense of belonging, offers academic and personal support, and serves as a resource for transitioning into Aggie life. At the ExCEL Conference, which launches the Friday before fall classes, students learn about the year-long program and are assigned upperclassmen peer mentors, a peer group, and other activities. Activities begin following the conference and run through the end of the spring semester, including programs relevant to the audience, mentor/mentee engagement activities, community service, and socials. While ExCEL is student run, you may also obtain information by contacting the Department of Multicultural Services in the MSC, Suite 2200.
Texas A&M University is a member of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA), was a charter member of the Southwest Athletic Conference (SWC) and the Big 12 Conference, and began its inaugural year in the Southeastern Conference (SEC) in 2012. Joining a national fraternity or sorority at Texas A&M University provides an opportunity to identify with and participate in Texas A&M’s rich traditions while developing close bonds of brotherhood and sisterhood. Nearly 6,500 Aggies are members of fraternities and sororities at Texas A&M and find it a rewarding and fulfilling method in which to get involved on campus.

The Office of Fraternity & Sorority Life coordinates programs for students interested in fraternity/sorority membership and assists with programs open to all students. Programs specific to fraternity and sorority members, leadership development opportunities, and the schedules of programs and services for their respective groups are coordinated by four councils: Collegiate Panhellenic Council (CPC), Interfraternity Council (IFC), Multicultural Greek Council (MGC), and National Pan-Hellenic Council (NPHC).

The foundation of the fraternal experience is that of leadership, community service, academic achievement, and brotherhood or sisterhood which serves to provide a comprehensive and rewarding collegiate experience. Energetic and ethical leadership inspires chapter members to live the ideals of their fraternities and sororities daily while contributing to Texas A&M University and the community. Fraternity and sorority members also commit to serving others through organized philanthropy events. Members also attend and participate in regional and national conferences specific to the national fraternity or sorority experience.

Collegiate Panhellenic Council | cpc.tamu.edu
The first sororities were organized when education for women expanded in the last half of the nineteenth century. A sorority is a sisterhood and an ideal extension of family life. Members are expected to maintain high scholarship, contribute to school spirit, exhibit high moral standards, and become involved in the needs of the community. The TAMU Collegiate Panhellenic Council serves as a central coordinating and governing body for 16 national sorority chapters and one local sorority chapter. Opportunities for women include developing leadership skills, promoting involvement in the campus and community, and encouraging academic excellence and personal development through the bonds of sisterhood. The Collegiate Panhellenic Council has provided Scholarship Awards for the past several years. CPC’s Formal Membership Recruitment is held one week before classes begin in the fall. While CPC does not host a formal recruitment period during the spring semester, there are often several sororities that still participate in continuous open bidding and will invite women to membership in the spring.

Interfraternity Council | ifc.tamu.edu
Spirit. Pride. Tradition. Brotherhood. These are words that bind fraternity men together. Regularly, over 1,200 Aggies choose fraternities as a way to become involved in campus life at Texas A&M. Membership recruitment is encouraged 365 days of the year. However, formal recruitment activities are held at the beginning of each semester. In choosing to join a fraternity, you become part of an organization of men who share common values, goals and ultimately a common bond. Whether it is a fundraiser for a local or national charity, developing a winning intramural team, or getting together with a sorority to sponsor a special event, everyone is needed; everyone gets involved.

Multicultural Greek Council | mgc.tamu.edu
The Multicultural Greek Council was formed at Texas A&M University in the spring of 1999. Several social and service groups were forming on campus whose needs were not met by any existing Greek council. These culturally-based fraternities and sororities joined together to promote the benefits of belonging to a culturally-based fraternity and sorority. Texas A&M University’s Multicultural Greek Council creates and maintains high standards for its member fraternities and sororities by addressing, coordinating, and developing strategic action plans; unifying organizations; promoting higher education; providing opportunities for community service; enhancing leadership skills; and serving as a liaison between council members, the University, the student body, and the administration to improve the campus climate.

National Pan-Hellenic Council | nphc.tamu.edu
The African-American Greek letter movement commenced in 1906 at Cornell University as a means by which cultural interaction and community service could be maintained. These African-American Greek-Letter Organizations were designed to foster brotherhood and sisterhood and to serve as a conduit by which collective action plans could be coordinated. The National Pan-Hellenic Council is extremely active at Texas A&M University and in the community. NPHC offers several very successful leadership development programs for men and women. The National Pan-Hellenic Council (NPHC) is the umbrella organization that provides coordination of philosophies and activities for member organizations and collegiate councils.
The Memorial Student Center is more than a building; it’s also a campus-wide programming organization whose mission is to make the campus experience great. MSC student programming committees bring concerts, lectures, art exhibits, movies, stage performances and shows, service projects, international internships, and academic and leadership conferences and trips to Texas A&M students. No matter your interest, the MSC is probably presenting something that will appeal to you. If you want to go deeper into campus life and develop your professional and leadership skills, then the MSC’s student programming committees are for you. As a committee member, you will be part of bringing great programs to campus and, at the same time, be making friends, meeting people with similar interests, and most importantly, developing your professional skills. In the MSC you will experience what it takes to manage an organization, promote and produce a wide variety of different campus wide programs, and network with other student leaders and former students. Your experience as part of an MSC organization will shape the rest of your life, not only by giving you the kind of experience that potential employers like to see, but by creating memories and friendships that last a lifetime. MSC programs include the MSC OPAS performing arts series, student-curated art exhibitions in the MSC Reynolds Gallery, concerts, weekly films, lectures and speakers discussing current events and national affairs, the MLK Breakfast and MSC Open House. The MSC also promotes international awareness through on-campus programming and internships abroad.

Find out more about MSC student programming committees and our leadership opportunities by visiting MSC Open House on Sept. 2 from 1-5 p.m. and the first Sunday after classes begin during the spring semester.

Residential Housing Association (RHA)

Living on campus offers a multitude of diverse opportunities not available elsewhere, this allows students to realize their full potential as leaders—most notably through active participation in the Residential Housing Association. Considering itself the “Pride of Aggieland,” RHA endeavors to aid on-campus students by advocating on their behalf. As a community over 10,000 strong (all students who live on-campus, outside of the Corps of Cadets), RHA stands as the largest student organization at Texas A&M University. Meetings are held biweekly on Tuesdays at 7 p.m. with friends and fellow student leaders, while legislative meetings address the latest community issues.

RHA is one of the strongest diversity advocates through monthly diversity activities for members. While each residence hall elects a Community Council to focus on the needs of its unique constituency, RHA, as the umbrella organization, works to foster a greater, overarching community. RHA is renowned for hosting events such as AggieFest, an annual signature event during Howdy Week, as well as Diversi-tee Day, the kickoff event for Residence Life’s Inclusion Week.

RHA provides a vibrant voice for students that provides a strong foundation for shaping their future. RHA offers leadership, service opportunities, friendships that will last a lifetime, and most importantly, it offers a family. Constituents of RHA have the opportunity to travel to conferences all over the nation with RHA in order to hone their leadership skillset and network with other on-campus students from around the world. RHA also collaborates with other on-campus organizations such as the National Residence Hall Honorary, Residence Hall Staff Council, Eco-Reps, and Encouraging Respect, Acceptance and Support through Education (ERASE) to promote a holistic on campus experience for each and every Aggie.

In Student Activities, we believe in helping Aggies reach their fullest potential through leadership, involvement, and tradition! We develop leaders of character. From the Maroon & White Leadership Fellows to international leadership experiences and our Peer Leadership & Service Program, our Leadership & Service Center will help you fulfill our core values of leadership and selfless service.

We turn passion into involvement. With more than 1,200 recognized student organizations, Aggies can find their niche on campus. Check out our Center for Fraternity & Sorority Life that houses 50-plus national and international chapters, or the Student Government Association and Class Councils that offer opportunities for Aggies to represent the student voice. Enhance your transition into the Aggie culture through extended orientation programs such as Fish Camp, Aggie Transition Camps, or Venture Camp.

We are home to Texas A&M traditions. The “A&M Experience” would not be complete without our unique, student-led Aggie traditions such as Midnight Yell Practice, Silver Taps, Muster, The Big Event, and Ring Dance. From the beginning of your time in Aggieland to the end, these Aggie traditions will give you memories for a lifetime, and Student Activities will be there supporting you along the way!
Student Government Association (SGA)

WEB: sga.tamu.edu
PHONE: (979) 845-3051

Student Government Association strives to bring collaboration, unity and tradition to the Texas A&M campus. Through leadership, integrity, selfless service, respect, loyalty, and excellence, we believe we help all students as they strive to share their voice, get involved, and find their passion. SGA consists of three branches: executive, senate, and judicial; four commissions: election, diversity, development, and legislative relations; and 14 committees: Aggie Recruitment Committee, Alternative Spring Break, Aggie Muster, The Big Event, Career Closet, CARPOOL, COSGA, Gilbert Leadership Conference, Guide, Environmental Issues Committee, Fish Aides, Replant, TAMC, and Traditions Council. Each section of SGA brings new voices to campus from maintaining our traditions to providing a safe ride home to recruiting new students to Aggieland.

Newspaper
The Battalion is Texas A&M’s 125-year-old student newspaper. Student editors determine news and editorial content and direct the staff in news gathering, writing, editing stories, and producing the print and online versions. Students can apply to work at The Battalion; all full-time Texas A&M students are welcome. The Battalion is published Monday through Thursday during fall and spring semesters, and will print once a month in the summer. It is distributed on campus and at many apartments and other high traffic areas in College Station. View articles, photos, videos, and blogs online at thebatt.com. If you have a hot news scoop or letter to the editor, turn that in to The Battalion in person at the Student Media office in Suite L400 of the Memorial Student Center or email editor@thebatt.com.

Magazine Maroon Life is a publication started in 2017 that is distributed five times per year. Editions include the New Students’ Guide to Aggieland that’s passed out during New Student Conferences, the Fall Sports Preview, the Best of Aggieland, the Spring Sports Preview, and the Housing Guide.

Yearbook
The Aggieland, one of the nation’s largest annuals, reviews the academic year—the people and events that make each year memorable. The Texas A&M University yearbook is under the direction of student editors, who determine its content. If you worked on your high school yearbook, you may want to work on the Aggieland. All 544 pages are created on Mac computers using Adobe InDesign, Photoshop, and other state-of-the-art programs. You can order the Aggieland when you pay your tuition and fees during fall registration. You also may order with a credit card online at aggieland.tamu.edu, by calling 979.845.2696, or at the Student Media office in Suite L400 of the MSC. Yearbook charges are refundable in full during the semester in which payment is made. Thereafter, no refunds will be made on canceled orders.
