Student Employment

The Libraries hire students for a variety of jobs such as:

- Digitizing print collections
- Working at service desks
- Shelving books
- Helping at New Student Conferences
- And many more!

Jobs become available year-round,
and are flexible to work around student schedules.

Check out Jobs for Aggies to see what's open!

Printing

Did you know you get $30 each semester for printing? (And $15 in the summer!)

Don't need a print copy? The Libraries has high-speed scanners you can use for free!

OALs

Left your laptop in your room?

Need access to specialized software?

The Libraries has several OAL computer labs available for you!

Textbooks

And how we can help you with your Course
Materials

Course Reserves

Textbooks are expensive!
Before you buy them, check to see if the library has what you need available.

Course Reserves are print or digital materials that your professor makes available. If it is not already available, YOU can also request material!

OERs

In addition to Course Reserves, you can always check to see there is an OER textbook for your class!

OER textbooks are freely available materials created by professors and librarians.

Pro Tip!

Use the Libraries Catalog to find class books, ebooks, other materials, and for recreational reading.

If you need help finding what you need, go to AskUs! Ask a Librarian!

The screenshot shows the Texas A&M University Libraries Catalog homepage. At the top, there is a dark red header with the TAMU logo and the text "Texas A&M University Libraries" on the left, and "MyLibrary Help" on the right. Below the header, the main title "Library Catalog" is displayed in a dark red bar. The central search area features a large white search input field, a dropdown menu set to "All Fields", a red "Find" button with a magnifying glass icon, and a link to "Advanced" search. Below the search bar, the page is organized into three columns of links. The first column, "Browse by Library Locations", lists various library branches. The second column, "Other Search Options", provides links for different search criteria. The third column, "Help", offers assistance options. At the bottom, a dark red footer contains a series of small, light-colored links for site navigation and support.
