This website helps you fulfill certain degree requirements such as ICD (International and Cultural Diversity), Language/Philosophy/Culture, and Creative Arts.

Many Language/Philosophy/Culture and Creative Arts credits count as ICD as well.
Transfer Equivalency Website

Very useful website for transfer students to know how your courses will transfer.

You can Google almost anything you need and find it for TAMU.
Utilize the Horticulture Department Website:

Important Policy Information

Full-Time Status
- 12 hours or more per semester receive flat-rate (advise taking 15 credit hours)
- 1-11 credit hours will be charged tuition and fees based on number of hours
- This can affect Financial Aid, loans, student organization participation, campus housing, insurance, social security, Veteran’s benefits, and potential scholarships

Q-Drop Policy
- The state of Texas allows 6 Q-Drops total, but Texas A&M only allows 4 Q-Drops
- You can Q-Drop until November 17th and April 17th
- Find the form outside the advising office (HFSB 204) or online on the registrar website – Turn it into the advising office
- Be sure to check you are dropped from the class!
Important Policy Information

Scholastic Probation and Suspension
• Probation occurs in any semester when your GPR drops below 2.0
• Registration block
• Required Conference with Department Head
• If you fail to meet probation requirements, you may be suspended the following semester
• Readmission
• Check out http://student-rules.tamu.edu/ to learn more

Registration Blocks
• Prevent you from registering for the next semester
• Various offices/departments can block you from registering
• We can only remove holds that we have placed – Make an appointment
• You can check these blocks in your Howdy Portal.
Haven Training

• One-time required training covering sexual harassment and sexual violence

• Can affect your registration status next semester

• Find it in your Howdy Portal under the “Student Life” tab

Courses to Pay Special Attention To

HORT 201 – Hort Sciences and Practices
• This a lecture that is required

HORT 202 – Hort Sciences and Practices LAB
• This is a lab that supplements HORT 201 and is also required
• You must register for both of these classes separately
• They have different CRN’s.
Important information to pay attention to…

You will need the CRN to register for the class you want.

Cap: (capacity) total number of seats available in the class

Act: number of students that have already registered

Rem: (remaining) how many seats that are left

If Rem is a negative number, students have already been forced into the class.

We can ONLY force you into HORT classes.

Force Request form is online.

You can build your schedule now!

Remember to pay attention to days, times, and locations. You have 20 minutes in between classes.
