Today's Agenda

Defining Economics

What can you do with an Economics degree?

Careers in Economics

What can you expect when joining our department?

Academic Planning

What are the details of your A&M Economics degree and what will you take in the spring?

An aerial photograph of a large football stadium, likely the Cotton Bowl in Dallas, filled with a massive crowd of spectators. The field is green with white yard lines, and the words "TEXAS A&M" are visible on the field. The sky is blue with some clouds. A dark red rectangular box is superimposed over the center of the image, containing white text.

YOU are Responsible for YOUR College Experience

I want to do a 4+1 program in another college at A&M.

That's great! Utilize that college's website to research what is required. Email them.

I want to further my studies at another institution.

Awesome! Contact their Admissions Office to see what you need to do.

Economics Faculty, Staff and Advisors can help with Economics related questions.

Department of Economics

The Department of Economics at Texas A&M University is a highly-ranked program with world-class faculty in a variety of fields.

The 2024 U.S. News and World Report shows the Department as the number 38 overall and 17 among public universities. We are tied with Arizona State University, University of Arizona, Georgetown University, Rice University, University of Indiana, UC-Irvine, University of Southern California and University of Pittsburgh.

Economics vs. Business As a Major

What do Economists do?

Analyze how people and organizations make choices

- individuals deciding what to buy, governments designing policy, and firms setting prices

Use data and models to understand the world

- applying math, logic, and coding to test hypotheses and predict behavior

Design better systems

- improving education, fixing health care, reforming taxes, and making markets work more efficiently

Explore big questions

- what drives inequality, how innovation spreads, and why some countries grow faster than others

Think strategically

- game theory, behavioral insights, and incentives to anticipate how others will respond and make smarter decisions

The field is green with white yard lines, and the words "TEXAS A&M" are visible on the field. The stadium is surrounded by a large crowd of fans, and the sky is blue with some clouds. Economics Majors are required to enroll in at least one Economics [ECON] or Econometrics [ECMT] course each fall and spring semester

Creating a Schedule

12 hours is the minimum for full-time status

-We do not recommend more than 16 hours

-13 hours is ideal for your first semester at A&M

You may not be able to follow the Catalog's 4 year plan exactly

-Course credit could already be earned for specific semesters

-Courses may be full or not be offered this semester

Your options for online courses while completing your Economics degree at Texas A&M will be very LIMITED

Do not register for courses that you believe you have earned AP/IB or transfer credit

Economics is NOT an online degree and cannot be completed online –
you must plan to be in College Station for the spring semester

Typical First Semester Transfer Schedule

ECON 323 Microeconomic Theory [Foundation Course].....	3
ECON 330 Economic Development [ECON Elective].....	3

Note: Every student's schedule will look slightly different

Reminder: We will ONLY give you SPRING 2026 schedule advice on ECONOMICS

Rev's Reserve: Pocket Pantry & Closet

The Closet has business casual to professional clothing. Students may keep what they select. Or, we provide dry cleaning vouchers for clothing checked out for return at a later date.

The Department of Economics opened a Pocket Pantry and Closet within the Advising Suite Fall 2025. These resources are open to all students without questions asked.

Both initiatives are fully stocked by donations from Economics faculty, staff, and supporters of the Department.

Pantry Wish List

We place a mobile pantry outside the suite daily. Advisors take students in need of more resources to browse our larger pantry supply to gather what they need.

- ☐ maintain a major [ECON/ECMT] GPA of 2.0 or higher at all times
- ☐ complete all ECON and ECMT courses with a C or higher for the course to be degree applicable
- ☐ complete MATH 140 and MATH 142, or their equivalents, with a C or higher by the third semester enrolled at Texas A&M to fulfill prerequisites for future required courses
- ☐ enroll in a minimum of one ECON or ECMT course every fall/spring semester
Failure to comply will incur a registration block for curricular violation followed by dismissal from the department*
- ☐ make satisfactory academic progress toward an Economics degree
Failure to comply will incur a registration block for curricular violation followed by dismissal from the department*
- ☐ pass the following classes with a C or higher by the second attempt: ECON 202, 203, 323, and 410, ECMT 461, and 463, MATH 140 and MATH 142 or their accepted equivalents
 - If a third attempt is necessary to earn a C or higher, I will be placed on probation within the department for that semester
 - If, after the third and final attempt, I do not pass the course with a C or higher, I will be dismissed from the department
- ☐ understand and adhere to academic requirements set by any minor I declare

Email Etiquette

As an Economics Student, I understand:

- ☐ I am required to use my OFFICIAL Texas A&M email when corresponding with advisors/professors
- ☐ I will always include my first and last name and UIN in all emails
- ☐ I will not resend the same email multiple times while waiting for a response
- ☐ I will allow a reasonable amount of time for an email response, 24 – 48 hours, weekends and holidays not included
- ☐ I am responsible for monitoring my email daily
-Not checking my email is not a valid excuse for missing a deadline.
